Fortunately, the work was bunglingly done, and to this fact the escape of the train from the track. Fortunately, the work was bunglingly done, and to this fact the escape of the train from being smashed is due, the locomotive and tender having kept the track, and thus prevented the car containing the General from going over. It was a narrow escape. It was not far from this place, on the same road, that a train containing Gov. Morton was thrown from the track some time ago."

The Gazette also says:—"The train on the Ohio and Mississlppi Railroad which left St. Louis at 3.10 p. m. Tuesday, met with an accident which came near proving serious, twelve miles east of Vincennes, about 12 o'clock the same night. We learn from passengers that soon after leaving East St. Louis a freight train off the track was encountered, which caused some delay. In trying to make up lost time the train was run faster than the schedule provided, and when twelve miles this side of Vincennes the two sleeping cars jumped from the track and rolled over, mixing up things generally, and bruising most of the occupants, but fortunately killing no one. The forward cars remained on the track. Gen Sherman was passenger in one of the overturned cars, but was not injured. Having dragged himself out he was seen 'making for the front,' which point he reached, and taking a seat in another car, he succeeded in reaching Lawrenceburg.'

"Lieutenant General Grant, in order to gratify the wishes of the people of Indiana, visited Indianapolis on Tuesday, and desiring to return to this city Tuesday, and desiring to return to this city Tuesday, night, a special train, consisting of a locomotive, tender and passenger coach, was placed at his disposal. This started from Indianapolis late in the evening, and no mishap was experienced until it reached Guildford, about ten miles west of Lawrence-burg, at loclock a. m. At this point, just before reaching the bridge, the switch had been partially displaced. The engine, tender and the fore truck of the passenger coach, however, kept the track, but the hind truck of the latter was thrown off, and was dragged over the cross-ties and across the bridge before the train could be checked. There being a heavy carve at this place, the engineer had fortunately checked the speed of the train, and it was moving slowly at the time of the occurence, so that the displaced car remained on the bed of the road. The General and party were then transferred to the engine and brought safely to Lawrenceburg, where another car was provided.

CESSATION OF DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS.

Among the most prominent bits of lown gossip of the last few days has been the action taken by the theatrical managers of this city, in closing their relations and withdrawing their patronage from the Herald. The facts of the case may interest the public, as they involve a question which, we understand, may be decided by legal proceedings—the point being, whether an editor of a paper has a right to exclude advertisements, or whether he is obliged to take all advertisements that may off-r which are not of an improper character. The question in England and France has, we believe, been legally decided in favor of the latter alternative.

Mr. Bennett, the editor and proprietor of the Herald, had recently a personal difficulty with Max Maretzek, which resulted in the with-Max Maretzek, which resulted in the withdrawal of the operatic advertisements and job printing from the Herald establishment. Although this affair attracted much attention, the theatrical managers did not deem it incumbent upon them to take any side in what appeared to be a personal matter. In the meantime the Herald declared that the opera was a sickly superfluity, and advocated in strong terms the superior attractions and merits of dramatic entertainments.

A few days ago Mr. Barnum presented his advertisement at the counter of the Herald office, and it was refused. The clerk declined to give any reason, further than that he had received orders to that effect from the editor.
It is stated informally that Mr. Bennett is not satisfied with the terms of his purchase of the late Museum property, corner of Ann street and Broadway, and seeks to modify the transaction. This Mr. Barnum declines to do, and hence, it is supposed, his advertisements were refused.

The theatrical managers now deemed it

The theatrical managers now deemed it proper to take some notice of the course of the Herald proprietor. They therefore held a meeting, at which the Academy of Music, Wallack's, Niblo's Winter Garden, Old Bowery, New Bowery and the Olympic theaters, Earnum's Museum, and Wood's and Bryant's Minstrels, were represented by their respective managers.

After the matter was duly discussed it was moved that the managers present withdraw their patronage from the Herald. Mr. Stuart, of Winter Garden, offered an amendment to the effect, that, before taking action, a committee be appointed to wait on Mr. Bennett, and inquire why the Museum advertisement was refused. This amendment was carried by a majority of one, and Mr. Wallach, Mr. Lingard and Mr. Stuart were appointed as such committee.

These gentlemen called on Mr. Bennett, and were contrieously received, although he plainly refused to give them any explanation of his refusal to accept the Barnum advertisement, and claimed that he had full right to refuse any advertisement. One member of the committee agreed with Mr. Bennett in the viewing the matter, but the other two differed from him. The committee called another meeting of the managers, and reported to them the result of the interview; whereupon it was unanimonsly agreed that they should withdraw after today all their advertisements from the Herald, should give it no more of their job printing, and should refuse to admit the Play Bill to their respective establishments. Henceforth, therefore, the theater-going public need hot look to the Herald for the advertisements of amusements. It is fair to add, however, that the Broadway Theater, the Hippotheatron, the San Francisco Minstrels, the American Theater and Tony Pastor's Opera House are not represented in this managerial coalition.

It will be observed that in taking this action the managers do not espouse any individual cause, or retaliate any personal grievance. With the troubles of Max Maretzek and Phineas T. Barnum with James G. Bennett they have, officially, nothing to do. But they claim as a principle that the newspaper which, by their unanimous patronage, they have done so much to benefit, shall not arbitrarily refuse their advertisements, and deprive them of the advantages of that circulation they have done so much to increase. Mr. Bennett takes an opposite view, and claims the right of refusing any advertisement he pleases. This point may be decided in the courts of law.—N. Y. Post.

The City Government of Richmond-Its Probable Restoration. [Correspondence of the Baltimore American.] KICHEVEN. Sept. 98. Mr. John Wright, who Richmond for the office of sherif, was, Septem-Richmond for the office of sheriff, was, September 28, permitted to qualify, and enter upon the discharge of bis duties. THE LAST OF THE "REBELLION."—This morning all the desks of the late Confederate House of Representatives, at which Miles, of South Carolina; Humphrey Marshall, of Kentacky; Heary S. Foote. of Mississippi; Charles W. Russell of Virginia; and such men sat, were sold at auction this morning, and brought from twenty-five to fifty cents each. They were little black-painted tables of the plainest kind, about eighteen by twenty-four inches on top, and covered with cheap blue cloth.

THE EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.—The Episcopal Convention, which has just adjourned here, was not so harmonious as the papers would have you believe. The members were very jealous and watchfel of Bishop Johns, after he found out that they wanted, as they call it, "to throw the Church into the arms of the North." Nothing escaped them. When the question of appointing a committee on the Bishop's report came up, it was proposed that the Council, and not the Bishop, as had been the practice heretofore, should appoint the committee. A stormy discussion arose, during which Bishop Johns threatened to, and actually did, leave the chair. This is an extraordinary occurrence in a Virginia religious body.

THE EIGHT HOUR MEETING.—The mechanics of the city are making extensive preparations for the great demonstration which is to take place in Monument square to-morrow evening. A large stand has already been erected, which is to have a procession, with bonners, tranparencies, devices, &c. The object of the meeting is understood to be the furtherance of the system of eight hours as a day's labor among the mechanics.—Ball. Sun, 2d. Ex-Governor Lowe.—We understand that Governor Bradford has declined to sign the petition of Ex-Governor Enoch Louis Lowe, of this State, for Executive pardon. Governor Bradford takes the ground that Mr. Lowe's case is not one demanding immediate action, there being no pressing necessity for his pardon.—Baltimore American.
